The Source

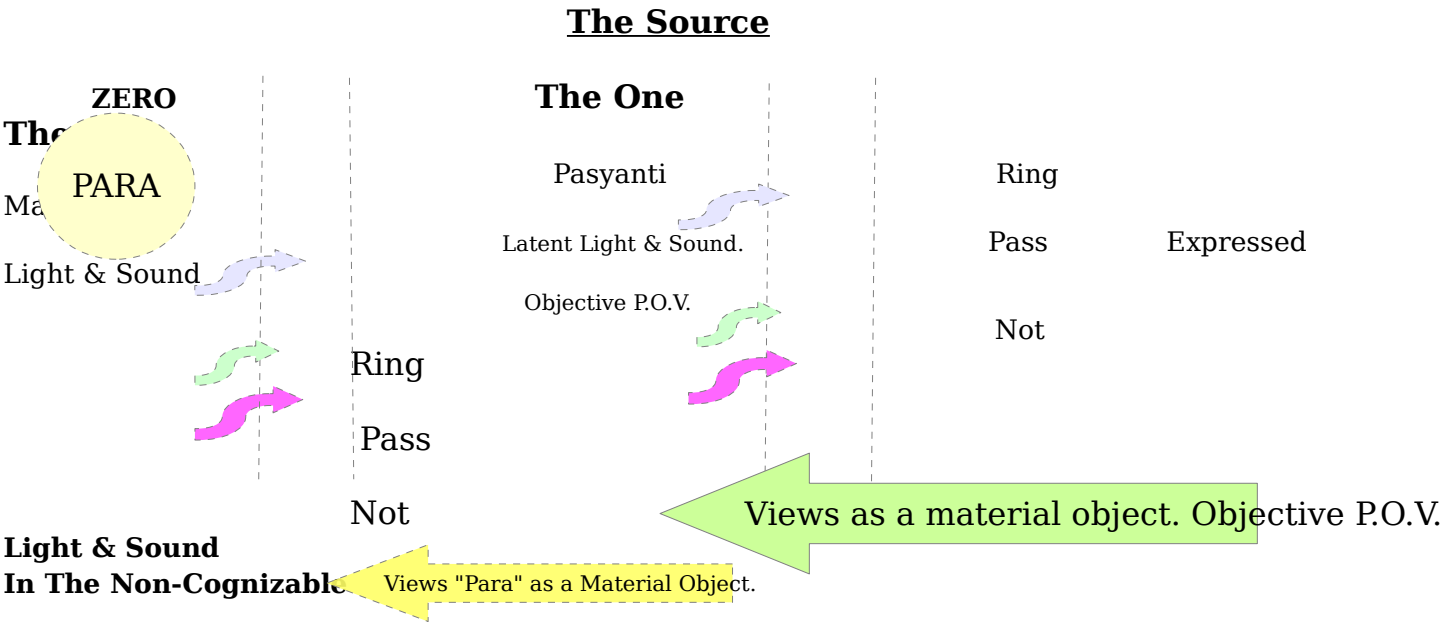

I am I the Rootless Root. I am I the causeless cause. I am I the Unknowable Absolute All of the source.
Everything in matter and spirit comes from me -"the source". I am beyond Being & Non-being. Even though matter & spirit comes from the source, they last for a cycle so vast as to be absolutely beyond the reach of the human mind. To the source thought, matter and spirit are transitory.

The Mirror

The mirror is a mathematical grid made up of "immaterial etheric" and "meta physical atoms". The "primitive element" of every material solid physical atom is force. These units of force and "not" projected into the universe(s), but rather "reflexed" by the mirror. All universe(s) get reflexed as a image on the mirror's surface. They are the image of the candle. They are "not" the candle. They are "not" the source. These mathematical points of force have "none" of the characteristics of solid physical matter! hence, these points can be conceived of but can never be the objects of any imaginative representation. In time these immaterial mathematical points of force obtain "self conscientious" and become "souls" ready to enter into reincarnation. Thus, humanity's reality in the manifested world is composed of "infinite immaterial units of unity". These are the centers of force or spiritual beings whose very nature is to make choices and act. This is how Karma is set into motion.

The Candle and it's Reflexion in the Mirror Metaphor Continued.

The number before zero is "No Number", and yet it is still something. One is the number after zero. One is dualistic. It gives birth to all opposites and paradoxes. That is, good and evil are two hands folded in prayer to the source.
